EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Risto A. Rinne, Jr. on 4/19/05.

The application has been amended as follows:

- Claim 1, line 1: Replace "A product for determining empathy" with
-- A product embodied on a computer-readable medium for determining empathy --.
- Claim 8, line 7: Replace "unique value" with -- value --.
- Claim 14, line 2: Replace "participant" with -- participants --.
- Replace Claim 22 with:
-- The system of claim 3 further comprising a third party means for referring a customer of a third party to subscribe to said system. --
- Abstract: Delete lines 16-19 beginning with "Software is provided..."

These changes were made to place the invention within the statutory classes of invention, to correct minor informalities, to further clarify the invention as claimed, and to place the Abstract within the maximum number of words allowed.

Reasons for Allowance

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art does not teach or fairly suggest means for mathematically comparing at least two answers either from said first set of answers to said fourth set of answers or from said second set of answers to said third set of answers sufficient to produce a numerical result that is representative of an average difference in the absolute value between said at least two answers, and wherein said average difference includes an empathy index for said topic and means for providing said empathy index to said first participant and to said second participant (Claim 1). The prior art does not teach means for comparing at least two of the sets of answers to establish a difference between an absolute value that is assigned to each answer for each question and wherein said means for comparing is configured to average said absolute value for a plurality of questions, and wherein said absolute value for a plurality of questions includes an empathy index, said empathy index providing an indication of either how well said first participant understands an aspect of said second participant appertaining to at least one topic covered by said questions or how well said second participant understands an aspect of said first participant appertaining to said at least one topic covered by said questions (Claim 3).

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
